

Glory Industry Co.,Ltd is specialized in developing and production of magnetic products. What we mainly supply to wind energy field are magnetic holders used as wind tower internal accessories. Comparing with traditional fastening method of using screws, magnetic holders do not need locator holes and thus they save you quite a lot of time. Besides, we use rare earth magnet in our holders, which provide super strong strength and great reliability. By using magnet the wall thickness of the tower does not have to be that thick so that quite some steel cost on the tower can be saved.

With more than 10 years experience and well-equipped production facility, we are able to provide whole package of service including design, prototype, utilization, mass production, over-all quality control.

We mainly export and our customers from wind energy include: Siemens, Vestas, GE.
